More Scared Than Hurt.

Owing to the fact that there has been quite a number of cases of smallpox reported in Mercer county, very near our line, our town and county people have felt quite a little uneasiness about the spreading of the dread disease, and the report has frequently been started during the past week that there was a number of cases in our own county. This, we are glad to say, is false, Last week, David Searcy, who lives a few miles from town on the Camden road, was taken sick, and the attending physician thought that some symptoms of the disease existed, and at once every precaution was taken to prevent its spread, in case it developed in-to smallpox. The house was at once quarantined, and Mr. James Hawkins was sent there as a nurse to care for Mr. Searcy. As said, this has not yet been pronounced smallpox, and there is not, to-day, a case of it in the county, and no alarm whatever need be felt.

Sheriff J. R. Paxton, Tuesday, received a check from the Southern Railway Co. for $2,703.64, the amount due the county on franchise tax for 1896 to 1902, inclusive. The total amount paid on for those years was $541,395.52. As will be remembered, this has been in litigation for several years, and it was only recently decided by the Court of Appeals that they should make the payment to this and other counties.
